

Nature, Love, Medicine

Essays On Healing In Wildness

Edited by
Thomas Lowe Fleischner

To be published by Torrey House Press, 2017

A sigh of relief, a blessing from some of the continent's most beautiful writers, a cooling breeze for an over-heated time – Tom Fleischner's new anthology is a pleasure, start to finish.

*Kathleen Dean Moore, author of Piano Tide and *Great Tide Rising

In Nature, Love, Medicine, nearly two dozen writers, poets, scientists, and healers reflect on what loving and needing nature really means to them. Read it, and you'll be stirred to ask the same of your own reflection – in the clearest, quietest pool you can find.

*Alan Weisman, author, The World Without Us and *Countdown
