GENEROSITY

Supporting
Gospel Ministry
at St Jude's and Beyond

St Jude's  Church

Supporting Gospel Ministry financially is one of the great joys of the Christian life – whether it is supporting your local church, giving in partnership with a missionary on the field, or supporting someone less fortunate than yourself. It is both a joy and a privilege.

This brochure is designed to help you think through a number of issues related to giving at St Jude's and beyond, specifically the following questions:

- > Why should I give?
- > How much should I give?
- > To whom should I give?
- > How does St Jude's spend its money?
- > How can I give?

why

Giving to support the work of God in the world is part of the biblical story in both Old and New Testaments.

In the Old Testament there were laws that governed the practice of giving. Each person was encouraged to give a tenth of their wealth, while each of 11 tribes would give one tenth of their income to support the work of the 12th tribe (the Levites, in their ministry of the temple) and for the poor (widows and orphans). This giving was seen as a joyful response to God's generous blessing of his people.

The New Testament has a different way of thinking about giving. It operates from the same principles of joyful response to God's generosity, especially in giving us his Son to die for us (2 Cor 8:9), but does not set a percentage that people should give. Rather, believers are simply encouraged to be generous towards God, and give to support gospel workers and the poor.

Here is a little of what the Apostle Paul had to say:

On the first day of every week, each of you is to put aside and save whatever extra you earn, so that collections need not be taken when I come.

(1 Corinthians 16:2)

The point is this: the one who sows sparingly will also reap sparingly, and the one who sows bountifully will also reap bountifully. Each of you must give as you have made up your mind, not reluctantly or under compulsion, for God loves a cheerful giver. And God is able to provide you with every blessing in abundance, so that by always having enough of everything, you may share abundantly in every good work.

(2 Corinthians 9:6-8)

In fact, Jesus said that what we do with our money is a reflection of the state of our heart (Matt 6:21). Giving money away grows our godly character as we depend on God for all our needs. It also helps us to avoid sins of greed, idolatry and selfishness. These are all good reasons to give.

should I give?

how much should I give?

People often want to know the answer to this question. Often the church has answered with the Old Testament idea of 10% or a tithe of income. This is perhaps not the best answer - or even the best question.

A better question is "How much should I hold back?" You see, everything we have is God's, and rightfully his, and our response should be one of thankful generosity. For some people, giving 10% will be incredibly generous, and for others not generous at all.

Giving away our money is actually an expression of faith. We trust God, not just to deal with our sins, but in all areas of our life - even to look after us financially.

How much to give is a very personal decision, but the order of things is important. The biblical principle of giving the "first fruits" is the idea that we give to God before we've put any away for ourselves, thus making us more dependent on God .

We want to encourage people at St Jude's to give generously. If you have a great capacity to earn, then you also have a great capacity to give. (See 2 Cor 8:10-15). We are among the wealthiest people in the world, and so we have great collective capacity to give.

The New Testament teaches that we should give to support Christian ministry.

Those who are taught the word must share in all good things with their teacher.

Galatians 6:6

Let the elders who rule well be considered worthy of double honour, especially those who labour in preaching and teaching; for the scripture says, "You shall not muzzle an ox while it is treading out the grain," and, "The labourer deserves to be paid."

1 Timothy 5:17-18

And we should also support the poor and the needy with our gifts.

There are many ways you can do this:

- > Giving to support Christian work here at St Jude's – both locally and across the globe
- > Supporting a Missionary directly through an agency
- > Supporting a para-church ministry like AFES (tertiary student work) or Access Ministries (high school chaplaincy)
- > Giving to an aid organisation like Opportunity International or TEAR

Usually people like to support a variety of ministries and causes, but it is clearly a matter of freedom.

to whom should I give?

how does St Jude's spend its money?

It important to note the following:

- > the ministry at St Jude's is entirely dependent on the giving of its members
- > we have no other significant sources of income
- > we receive no money from the Diocese of Melbourne

St Jude's spends most of the money we receive on supporting the staff team here. Their role is to equip our members for ministry – that's you! We employ teachers, preachers, pastoral care coordinators and evangelists, who do a lot to make the ministry of our church happen. We provide each of them with a living including a stipend (allowance) and housing.

A small amount of money is spent on resources for our ministry, and some on the upkeep of our buildings.

St Jude's gives away 5% of our giving income to Global Mission support – supporting people who have gone out from St Jude's to serve around the world. In the next five years we are also seeking to raise our giving to help the global poor to 5% as well.

St Jude's supports the Anglican Diocese of Melbourne each year with a substantial contribution.

Each year in November the Vestry (our church council) provides an audited report of how we have spent our money in the previous year. You are encouraged to read this report and ask questions about it.

how can I give?

There are five main ways of organising your giving at St Jude's:

Electronic Transfer

You can set up a regular funds transfer from your bank to St Jude's bank account. It can be done in a bank branch, on-line or over the phone. You will need to know the St Jude's Banking details:

Account Name:

St Jude's Anglican Church

Bank:

ANZ

BSB:

013-259

Account No:

2988 13214

To assist St Jude's in tracking giving from our various congregations, please list the congregation which you attend in your transfer reference.

Please use one of the following:

- > Parkville10 or Parkville5
- > Unichurch5 or Unichurch730
- > Estates
- > 9am or 11am
- > UrbanSoul

Direct Debit

This is where you instruct the Anglican Development Fund (ADF) (which functions like an Anglican Bank) to debit your account for a certain amount of money periodically and to direct it to the St Jude's bank account at no extra cost to you or to St Jude's. Use Form 1 in the pages following, and place it in the offering bag or forward it to the Church Administrator.

Credit Card Giving

Fill in your credit card details on Form 1 to instruct the ADF to regularly process a credit card transaction for an agreed amount. There is no cost to you or to St Jude's for this service. Place the form in the offering bag or forward it to the Church Administrator.

Envelopes

On the information table at church, there are envelopes dated for each Sunday of the year. These can be used to organise your giving on a regular basis.

Bags

Each Sunday in the service, we collect Communication Cards via the bags which are passed around. You can give directly by cash or cheque into these bags.

The key to all of these is to plan to give beforehand, and to be regular in your giving, even when you are not at church. We have a responsibility to support the ministry here every week of the year.

Tax-deductible giving

If you wish to receive tax benefits from your giving there are two options:

Estates Ministry

You can direct giving to support our ministry on the Carlton Housing Estates, to a tax-deductible fund with the Melbourne Anglican Benevolent Society Inc. (MABSI) who will provide a tax receipt. Use Form Two for this.

St Jude's National Trust Fund

Donations made to the National Trust assist with work on approved building projects, the stained glass windows and the church organ.

Tax-deductible donations can be mailed direct to the agency which processes them, or included in the offering as cheques or credit card slips using the appropriate forms.

further information

Confidentiality

Your privacy is respected. Financial information is collected only for the purpose of managing the tax-deductible funds and church finances. Credit card information is kept in a secure location.

Further Information

Further information about supporting the gospel ministry at St Jude's can be obtained from our office, or from the Finance Warden, whose details can be obtained from the Office (phone: 9347 5152).
