DEMYSTIFYING THE ART CONSULTANT: Q&A WITH LYDIA KUTKO

Moderated by Krista Saunders Scenna,
Co-Director of Ground Floor Gallery, Brooklyn

September 12, 2015, 6-8pm

RSVP required: trestle@brooklynartspace.org

Please join us for an informal chat between Krista Saunders Scenna, Co-Director of Ground Floor Gallery, and our guest, Lydia Kutko, owner of Lydia Kutko Art Consulting based in New York City.

Scenna will lead an informal and candid chat with Kutko defining the role of the art consultant, debunking several of the myths associated with the profession, and discussing how Lydia meets the artists she ultimately connects to her clients.

The chat will be accompanied by an extensive Q&A with the artists in the audience (that means you!) and a casual mixer allowing guests to speak to Kutko one-on-one.

Lydia Kutko Art Consulting provides customized art collecting and market research services for individuals and institutions. Kutko founded the company in 2007 shortly after earning her MA from FIT in Art Market Principles and Practices.

Krista Saunders Scenna is an independent curator and gallerist based in Brooklyn, NY. Scenna currently shows and advises emerging artists as the co-founder and director of Ground Floor Gallery in Park Slope, Brooklyn – a new gallery that connects underrepresented, local artists with new art buyers. She is also proud to serve on the board of Arts Gowanus.
