Date: Monday, July 4, 2016, 10 a.m. – 2 p.m.

Celebrate an old-fashioned Fourth of July at the 1879 Avery House, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at 328 W. Mountain Ave. Admission is free. The event coincides with the City of Fort Collins July 4th Parade that runs east on Mountain Avenue from Jackson Avenue, finishing at Meldrum Street in front of the Avery House. Celebrants can take in the parade and then come to the Avery House to continue the festivities.

The Bluegrass Patriots will perform at the event, and two food trucks, Mac'N and Gunter's Bavarian Grill, will sell delicious summertime fare. While enjoying the music, attendees can play old-fashioned games such as croquet and bean bag toss; make crafts; dress up in Victorian clothes from “Grandma’s Attic”; purchase lemonade, popcorn, and July 4th trinkets at old-fashioned prices; tour the Avery House, and more.

Old-Fashioned 4th of July at the Avery House is produced in cooperation with the City of Fort Collins Parks Department, the Downtown Business Association, Ranch-Way Feeds, the Coloradoan, and City of Fort Collins Fort Fund.
