Literacy Practices to Support all Learners:

What the research tells us to support whole-school reading reform

This conference will reinvigorate your teaching soul! Geared for classroom teachers, special education teachers, reading teachers, literacy specialists, school librarians & school leaders with a passion for literacy and special education, participants will be presented with a review of the research to best support classroom and school-wide literacy practices.

Participants will build capacity to assess, lead, and implement best practices related to the following:

- ✓ Assessing and meeting the needs of struggling readers
- ✓ Reading and Writing...literacy's reciprocal properties
- ✓ Creating a rich literate environment to support all learners
- ✓ Practicing what we preach – collaboration around school-wide literacy initiatives
- ✓ The forgotten initiative of Response to Intervention (RTI)
- ✓ Engaging parents/guardians to support the teaching of reading & writing at home
