Between 2007 and 2013 Alfred served as Chief Administrative Officer (“CAO”) and Director of Administration & Regulatory Affairs (“ARA”) of the City of Houston in both the Bill White and Annise Parker Administrations.

During his tenure, Alfred led and transformed the following Divisions: General City Administration, Purchasing, Payroll, Department Human Resources, Insurance, Citywide Administrative Policy and Major Initiatives. As Chief Regulatory Officer of the City, he was also responsible for the City’s Regulatory Affairs Division, which regulates all vehicles-for-hire (taxis, limousines, shuttles, pedicabs, etc.), Commercial Permitting (alcohol, noise, sexually oriented businesses, etc.), and Public Utilities Regulation such as electricity, gas, telephone, cable, etc. He was also responsible for the successful transformations of BARC (Animal Control), Parking Management and the 311 Help & Information. Both Mayors White and Parker have publicly praised Alfred’s creativity and performance highly.

Originally from New Orleans, and prior to moving to Houston from Los Angeles, California, he was a Senior Managing Director and Partner of Kibel Green, Inc., the leading Value Creation/Turnaround consulting firm in the Western United States. Alfred is a seasoned Chief Executive Officer and Professional Consultant with over 35 years experience in building and enhancing shareholder value for companies ranging in annual sales of $3.0 Million to $5.0 Billion. He has extensive leadership experience in many industry sectors, primarily in manufacturing, design and engineering, services, energy, life sciences, high technology, real estate, software, telecommunications, fast food, entertainment, wholesale food and financial services, all of which have allowed him to cross pollinate the strategies of one sector with the strategies of another.

Alfred was Executive Vice President of Cooperheat MQS, Inc., headquartered in Houston with 33 offices throughout the United States and Canada (sold to Team, Inc. (NYSE:TISI)). He was CEO of Microelectronic Packaging, Inc. (NASDAQ:MPIX), which was sole source to Intel and Schlumberger. As Chairman, President and CEO, he founded SeraCare, Inc. (AMEX:SRK), a public national hyper immune blood plasma company, which was sold to Grifols, S.A.

As President and COO, he stabilized and grew WET Design, Inc., a high tech, entertainment Water Feature company, which creates, designs, engineers and constructs water features for prestigious destinations worldwide such as; Disney Parks, the Sochi and Salt Lake City Winter Olympic Flames, Rockefeller Center, Tokyo Dome, Texas Medical Center, and the Houston Galleria, among many, many others worldwide. The largest of these features was the famous $66.0 Million Water Feature at the Bellagio Hotel in Las Vegas (www.wetdesign.com).

For nine years, he was the CEO of a multi-plant printing company, where he became well-acquainted with complex value-added manufacturing. Between his undergraduate and graduate educations, he worked for two years on a plant floor for Rand McNally in Mexico City.
