Artist Tiffani Taylor doubles down on global expansion

Paris, France (Jan. 20, 2017) - Tiffani Taylor has created a vibrant and sizeable art brand for her adoring fans worldwide. She is investing even more in her global expansion by moving to Paris, France and focusing intently on the international part of her business. Additionally, Tiffani has now launched a refreshed lifestyle collection that is truly a branded statement of her art. It's fresh, modern and yet classically rooted in tradition....exactly as her paintings are.

Her new collection and brand statement can be found at: <https://www.tiffanitaylorshop.com/>

In 1998, at the age of 17 Tiffani attended the world-renowned Savannah College of Art and Design on a Presidential Scholarship. In 2011, she opened the Tiffani Taylor Gallery in historic downtown Savannah Georgia. She has been growing her collector and fan base ever since. Additionally, Tiffani has licensed her art to Henri Bendels in New York City among many others. She is currently represented by The Buffalo Works, one of the worlds leading art licensing agencies. Tiffani now resides in Paris, France expanding her brand footprint across the Atlantic Ocean.

"Tiffani Taylor is immensely talented and we couldn't be more proud to represent her" says Joanne Olds, President of The Buffalo Works. "Tiffani has this highly unusual artistic embodiment of both Claude Monet and Kate Spade. It allows her fans to feel deeply rooted in a classic sense while simultaneously speaking to their modern style of today. Tiffani's art is truly one of a kind and her success globally demonstrates that perfectly".
