

ULTRA MACULAR™ AND MACUSAFE™

Advanced Eye Health Formulations.

CLINICALLY PROVEN TREATMENTS FOR MACULAR DEGENERATION AND OVERALL EYE HEALTH.

What is Age Related Macular Degeneration?

Age Related Macular Degeneration (AMD) is a progressive eye condition affecting as many as 15 million Americans and is the leading cause of vision loss and blindness for those over 60.

Why is macular health important?

The macula of the eye is essential to central vision, the yellow color or pigment of the macula is derived from three carotenoids: Lutein, Zeaxanthin and Meso-zeaxanthin. These antioxidants protect the eye by absorbing harmful blue light from sunlight, car headlights and other environmental sources.

Additionally these essential antioxidants neutralize free radicals from pollution, fried foods and other sources that damage the eye.

What causes AMD?

- Heredity
- Aging
- Obesity and inactivity
- High blood pressure (hypertension)
- Smoking
- Sun exposure

What is Ultra Macular?

Ultra Macular is a complete eye and whole body dietary supplement formulated by clinicians to help slow the progression of AMD.¹

Ultra Macular is based on the latest NIH study, AREDS 2, which showed that taking this specific combination of antioxidants and carotenoids reduced the risk of progressing to advanced AMD by 25%.¹

Who should use Ultra Macular?

Ultra Macular is very easy to take — just two capsules a day — anyone with AMD should take it to help fight the progression of AMD and further vision loss.

There are a number of AREDS supplements available, how is Ultra Macular different?

Ultra Macular is newly formulated based on the latest AREDS 2 study.
