Praise for Waterbrook Malbec in Wine Spectator, Jan. 2014:
“In Washington, where more than four dozen wineries have bottled small volumes of often-impressive malbec, Waterbrook has stepped out with the most widely available bottling. Both its 2009 and 2010 versions garnered outstanding ratings (defined as 90 to 94 points on Wine Spectator’s 100-point scale), with ebullient black pepper flavors fitting deftly into open-textured frames.” – Harvey Steiman
