

The Acting for Others collections take place every October in theatres across the country to raise money for 15 theatrical charities in one go. They are able to support anyone within the profession who are unable to work due to illness or injury and are in need.

One actress, following a serious road accident which left her chronically disabled and unable to get about, was given funding towards a motorised wheelchair. This gave her back her independence. We have also assisted a musical theatre performer who, after suffering severe illness, was helped back on his way to recovery by receiving financial assistance to help with his mortgage and alleviate any extra stress. And a stage manager who suffered a terrible accident whilst at work was assisted, along with her family, until she was well enough to return to the job she loved. These are just 3 examples of the many hundreds of people we help between us.

Actors, dancers, musicians, singers, lighting technicians, scene painters, wardrobe staff, front of house, backstage staff, and company managers - the list goes on. Whoever needs assistance can find help with us.
