

Andrew Dyrli Hermeling
CURRICULUM VITAE

Lehigh University
259 Delaware St.
Harrisburg, PA 17102

717.422.6948
drewhermeling@gmail.com
andrewdyrlihermeling.com

EDUCATION

Lehigh University, Bethlehem, PA

Ph.D. student in History

Major Field: Colonial American History. Minor Fields: Early Republic History, French and Spanish Atlantic History, and Native American Archaeology and Anthropology

Advisor: Dr. Michelle LeMaster

Lehigh University, Bethlehem, PA

M.A. in History (2014)

Thesis: "Navigating the Confluences of Power: Diplomacy in the Trans-Appalachian West, 1765"

Advisor: Dr. Jean Soderlund

Messiah College, Mechanicsburg, PA

B.A. in History (2006)

DIGITAL PROJECTS

The Way of Improvement Leads Home Podcast, Producer. (2015-Present)

GRANTS, FELLOWSHIPS, AND AWARDS

"Public Humanities, Public Arts" Faculty Seminar Invitee. (2017-2018)

Lehigh College of Arts and Sciences Dean's Master's Thesis Award. (2015)

PAPER PRESENTATIONS

Religion and Politics in Early America Conference, Society of Early Americanists

"Prophetic or Realpolitik?: The Evolving Politics of Neolin's Visions." (St. Louis, MO, 2018)

American Society of Ethnohistory

"Amended Instructions from the Master of Life: The Malleable Politics of Pan-Indian Revitalization, 1765." (Winnipeg, MB, 2017)

Society of Early Americanists

"Confluences of Power: Using Microhistory to Reorient Colonizer/Colonized Binary Approaches to Intercultural Diplomacy." (Tulsa, OK, 2017)

Confab Higher Ed

“Scholars and strategists: connecting our strengths with the digital humanities.” (Philadelphia, PA, 2016)

American Society for Ethnohistory

“At War with a Frenchman and an Indian: The Importance of Imagined Enemies in Trans-Appalachian Diplomacy.” (Nashville, TN, 2016)

Council of European Studies

“Negotiating Informal Empire: Trans-Appalachian Diplomacy, 1765.” (Paris, France, 2015)

American Society for Eighteenth-Century Studies

“Bold Speakers: Using Microhistory to Recover Indigenous Political Voices in the Trans-Appalachian West, 1765.” (Los Angeles, CA, 2015)

American Society for Ethnohistory

“Trans-Appalachian Confluences: A Microhistorical Examination of Diplomacy and Politics, 1765.” (Indianapolis, IN, 2014)

Native American and Indigenous Studies Association

“Onondaga and the Ohio Country: Six Nations Civil Government and the Ohio Iroquois, 1765.” (Austin, TX, 2014)

TEACHING EXPERIENCE

Messiah College

Instructor of Record, Imagining American Indians in Film, First Year Seminar (Fall, 2017)

Instructor of Record, Native American Cultures (2015-2016)

Instructor of Record, Today in Indian Country, First Year Seminar (Fall, 2016)

Lehigh University

Teaching Assistant, United States to 1865 (Fall, 2015)

Teaching Assistant, History of Modern Medicine (Spring, 2015)

The Nativity School of Harrisburg

U.S. History; Geography; World Cultures; Religion; World History (2007-2010)

SERVICE TO PROFESSION

Graduate Assistant, Lehigh University

Social media; Digital production; Liaison between departmental faculty and library digital resources

ASSOCIATION MEMBERSHIPS

American Society for Ethnohistory

Omohundro Institute of Early American History and Culture

Society of Early Americanists