

American Association of Christian Schools

Educating for Eternity

June 22, 2012

Mr. Kevin Plew
Indiana Christian Academy
432 W. 300 N.
Anderson, IN 46012

Dear Mr. Plew:

The Accreditation Commission of the American Association of Christian Schools (AACCS) approved your school for full accreditation status on June 22, 2012 for a period of five years. The Commission's decision was based on the Accreditation Team's written report, the recommendation for accreditation by the on-site accreditation team, and the Accreditation Commission's evaluation of the team's accreditation report. The leadership of AACCS congratulates you upon fulfilling the requirements for AACCS accreditation.

The final stage to the accreditation sequence is ongoing, involving the maintenance of a quality program in the following ways:

1. Updating the School Improvement Plan (SIP) on an annual basis.
2. Filing an annual report with the office of the American Association of Christian Schools.
3. Preparing for the mid-accreditation consultative visit in fall 2014.
4. Renewing the accreditation sequence during the fifth year of the accreditation period.
5. Addressing the Accreditation Team's recommendations.

Please be advised that a school can lose accredited status for the following reasons:

1. Failure to renew accredited status after the period of accreditation has lapsed.
2. Failure to renew annual membership with AACCS. Accredited status would cease on January 1 of the school year in which membership was not renewed.
3. Failure to submit the annual report and annual fee.
4. Failure to schedule a mid-accreditation visit.

Congratulations on a job well done! Please call our office if AACCS can be of assistance to you or to your school.

In His Service,

Jeff Walton
Executive Director

American Association of Christian Schools
Accreditation Certificate

Be it known that

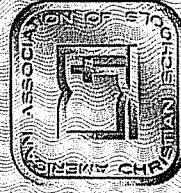

Indiana Christian Academy

having met the requirements of the Accreditation Commission of the American Association of Christian Schools, and the requirements for membership in the American Association of Christian Schools, is hereby accredited, and is entitled in all the privileges and scholastic recognition resulting therefrom.

Beginning Date: June 22, 2012

Valid Through: June 22, 2017

IN WITNESS THEREOF the undersigned officers of the American Association of Christian Schools have affixed their signatures.

Keith Wiebe

Dr. Keith Wiebe, President

Jeff Walton

Dr. Jeff Walton, Executive Director