Leaders in Action 4th Grader to Receive Centurion of Scripture Deca Award

During the 2016 Lads to Leaders Annual Convention in Memphis, Angel Huffman will receive the Deca Award for memorizing 1,000 verses during the past four years, with 700 verses being memorized this year. She primarily memorized individual verses with several small groups of verses, such as the Twenty-third Psalm, the Beatitudes and the Lord's Prayer. Much of her recent memory work has been from the book of Matthew since that is the theme book this year.

Angel has participated in the Lads to Leaders program since she was 5 years old. Her L2L activities have included Good Samaritan, Bible Bowl, Bible Bowl Test, Know the Books, Speech, Songs of Praise, Bible reading, Art Says It, and Puppets.

During the past four years, the L2L Bible studies have included the book of Acts and the prison letters, and this year the book of Matthew. After studying Acts, she became a Christian. Angel is a member of the Oliver Creek Church of Christ in Bartlett, Tenn., and is a fourth grader in the Veritas homeschool program.

L2L Goes Global

L2L will host its second international convention in May! Don Walker and the Trenton, Ga. congregation are sponsoring part of this effort and taking materials to the Philippines to conduct a convention there, just weeks after the six conventions in the United States on Easter weekend. This convention will take place a year after the first international L2L convention in Romania, which was sponsored by Gary Ezell of Jonesboro, Ark.

L2L is going global, and you can help! In an effort to help fund the remainder of the convention in the Philippines and other international conventions, there is an option in the registration system for you to elect to sponsor an international convention attendee. There is a new check box on the student and adult registration pages that you can check to add $40 to your registration. All of those funds will be used for L2L international efforts.
