

MARSHALL MCLEAN BAND :: THE BEST IN NORTHWEST AMERICANA ROCK

The Marshall McLean Band was born out of the Northwest, and it carries with it the unique sound that is becoming distinct to the Inland Northwest. The band, based out of Spokane, WA, has brought forth a fresh idea; that one can merge elements of thoughtful songwriting in folk, the driving force of rock, and the melodic accessibility of Americana and carve out a new genre - a kind of NW Americana Rock.

One of Spokane's favorite songwriters, McLean manages to write songs without pretension. He sets reflective moods and backs them up with a distinctive picking style that travels seamlessly from powered lead lines to dynamic rhythm. It is in the final output, however, where the Marshall McLean Band carves its most solid niche. The method in which acoustical elements are managed through filters and amps gives forth a clear but overdriven sound that blurs the line between genres. The band is unafraid, blending these styles, taking the best of both worlds and discarding the rest.

The band's first release, "Glossolalia" - which means "speaking in tongues" - showcases the mature and well-received effort by Marshall McLean Band. The band's second full-length record, Sodak, is scheduled for a Summer 2016 release.

ALBUMS

Glossolalia - November 2013

1. Coat of Many Colors [5:00]
2. Sons of Thunder [4:28]
3. Sinking Ships [5:46]
4. Nightingale [3:42]
5. Irons in the Fire [5:16]
6. Giving up the Ghost [3:33]
7. Out the Window [4:40]
8. Hard Times [3:54]
9. Ohio [4:37]
10. Real Thin Line [5:12]

Badlands (Single) - October 2015

1. Badlands [4:23]

ACCOLADES

"Glossolalia is a undisputed success, and a record that has every opportunity to slip into Album of The Year conversations at blogs like this one everywhere." - Ryan Townsend, Pop Heart Etc.

"MMB has released their first single, "Sinking Ships", which is without a doubt a prime example of the beauty that is certain to ensue as this band progresses on..." - Ron Trembath, Trainwreck'd Society

"'Glossolalia' exceeded my expectations and is truly one of the finest records of 2013." - Erick Doxey, Photographer

HIGHLIGHTS

Shared the stage with notable acts

- Avett Brothers
- Grizzled Mighty
- Cataldo
- Joseph

Draw 200+ in Spokane, WA & Sandpoint, ID

Collaborators

- Billy Conway of Morphine
- Jamie Frost of The Makers
- Natalie Closner of Joseph

McLean was named 2006 Gibson Acoustic New Artist of the Year