Kim Bartley, Principal Designer of Kim Bartley Design, has worked on various projects in the Toronto and Vancouver markets.

I LOVE THIS LOOK because it is light and bright. The deep tones of the Autumn Bronze colour act as a playful accent that does not dominate the colour scheme. The walls (Cloverdale 8427 Wishing Star), bed and side tables in light neutral tones add a mixture of materials and textures to the room. The streamlined light fixtures are translucent, making the space look and feel bigger. The accent colours bring personality to the room with rich pink hues in the accessories and accent pillows.

WHY DO YOU LOVE WORKING WITH AUTUMN BRONZE? Autumn Bronze is an interesting colour because of its versatility. It imitates traditional red wood tones found in mahogany and cognac leathers. When paired with complementary colours such as teal and turquoise, it becomes more modern and lively. When Autumn Bronze is paired with warm pink and purple tones, it creates a rich colour scheme.

I LOVE THIS LOOK as it's a throwback to the past. Autumn Bronze exudes a soft richness when paired with hues of pink and grey. The deep pop of colour provides a neutral backdrop for gold accents and luxurious fabrics. Equally modern and classic, this palette will take your look from the coziness of winter to the bright light of spring.

WHY DO YOU LOVE WORKING WITH AUTUMN BRONZE? Autumn Bronze is an unusual tone that manages to add both a richness and sophistication to a colour scheme. It sets off textures beautifully and comes alive when paired with metallics in a range of colours. Neutral greys and soft pinks underscore the elegance of the hue, blending an eclectic bohemian feel with a 70s flair.
