1) A color-coordinated candy display satiates any sweet tooth, especially when anchored by Xs and Os bowls. Hugs and kisses for everyone!

2) Oversized initials (perhaps one for you and one for your mister) provide a pop of typographic interest.

3) Go ahead, indulge a little. Only powdered doughnuts and kisses are worthy of musing up your wedding day lipstick.

4) Low centerpieces keep guests' conversation flowing across the table.

5) Rustic chairs, these borrowed from On Solid Ground Vintage Rentals, add a cozy, down-home feeling to an otherwise modern table spread.

6) Chevron continues its reign as the go-to bold pattern, adding a stylish twist to everything from invitation suites to tabletop décor.

7) Nothing says "celebration" quite like balloons—especially gold, heart-shaped ones with miles-long streamers.

8) All generations, from little ones to children-at-heart relatives, appreciate the chance to spread a little sparkle with a confetti bag.

9) Pinks and oranges and Ivories, oh my! Studio Fleurette assembled only the best and brightest of flowers for this bouquet.

10) With a drink cart as charming as this one, guests will come back for seconds ... and maybe thirds.

11) Give thanks to your guests with "aww"-inducing gift boxes of animal crackers. Trust us: They'll appreciate the cute and nostalgic gesture.
