

Neil Welliver | Early Figurative Paintings

December 1, 2001 through January 26, 2002

Reception for the artist: Saturday, December 1, 1 to 4 pm

Catalogue available with texts by

Frank H. Goodyear, Jr. and Barry Schwabsky

An exhibition surveying the early figurative paintings of Neil Welliver will be on view at ALEXANDRE GALLERY from December 1 through January 26, 2002. The artist will be present for a reception at the gallery on Saturday, December 1, 1 to 4 pm.

During the late 1960s and early 1970s, before turning to the Maine landscape as his exclusive subject, Welliver painted large-scale nude figures in forest settings. The show will mark the first presentation of this body of work since the 1970s.

A fully illustrated catalogue with essays by Frank H. Goodyear, Jr. and Barry Schwabsky accompanies the exhibition.

Neil Welliver is represented exclusively by ALEXANDRE GALLERY.
