

heidi

heidi lee miller
heidi@mangoink.com
<http://www.mangoink.com>
spokane, washington

heidi miller is a born and raised pacific northwest girl, who craves all things minimal and clutter free, and aspires to have that be true in all aspects of her life.

married to ryan for 22+ years, we have three kids (ages 19,17,& 12). when our youngest was born in 2004, we started our first company called mango ink, a stationery company. mango ink has been going strong ever since. serving up delicious designs for holiday cards and wedding invitations. i am the ceo and lead graphic designer.

ryan is my best friend, so naturally i love to follow him around while he dreams big. when we met at age 19, i knew i was in for an amazing adventure. together we have started a spiritual community called branches, which is 6 years old. this little place is like nothing we've experienced before. it's filled with grace, love, and no judgement and it's lighting up its piece of the world with all kinds of warmth and goodness.

we also started 08 Left, a design company dedicated to travel and aviation. we both love to travel and ryan loves aviation, so 08 Left has apparel, accessories, and artwork dedicated to both.

and lastly, our newest company, republic of equal, is an apparel company with simple designs and a simple message: more love, more equality, and more togetherness. born after the election, when the fear of hate and divisiveness felt suffocating. this is a way to remind us we all belong together.

i personally, for the first time in my life, am seeking to believe i can dream beyond my four walls. to boost a thriving company in an age of automation and non personal connection. i am seeking to learn and simplify and sort through what matters and what doesn't and how to be more present.

i can help others by finally believing what i have been reading for the past 6 years. that i am enough, that i can create, that i do have a voice, that i am creative, that nobody does it like i do it and that's a good thing, that being on social media is NOT productive, that i need to "do the work".....and also knowing that cooking and eating and having dinner parties and lots of wine is where life is truly found.