

DRAMA STUDIO COURSE LIST—FALL 2018

Introductory Courses 101, 201, 301 and Introduction to Dance, AU

There are no pre-requisites for these courses, and they are excellent for any student, regardless of his or her experience in acting. From students who are very shy to those who have been in many performances, these classes are a great introduction to the Studio's unique style and curriculum.

Introduction to Acting is a full year course, September–May. This course offers an exciting curriculum to introduce students to the acting process. Both 201 and 301 offer work in improvisation, movement, scene and monologue work, and ensemble building. As students advance in acting skills, they learn to take risks, work comfortably within a group, concentrate, and think on their feet. They develop skills of self-expression, awareness, and “being in the moment.”

Introduction to Dance for Actors: No previous experience needed for this fun introduction to choreography! This course introduces students to basic dance technique, emphasizing foundations of creative movement, modern and jazz dancing. Students will grow in body awareness, strength, flexibility, and coordination as they learn basic dance vocabulary, contact technique, and choreograph their own dances.

Introduction to Dance for Actors (IDA) Ages 9-18

Instructor: Amelia Hays-Rivest

Saturdays, 10-11AM, beg. 9/8/2018

Acting Up Can't wait until age nine to start at Drama Studio? Then wait no longer! Due to popular demand, we are now offering a class for younger actors. In "Acting Up" we'll explore a fun introduction to acting through improv games, theatre play, stories-on-stage, and creative movement. Bring your imaginations as you get a head start and join us for a Drama Studio class just for you!

Acting Up (AU) ages 6 - 8 beg. 9/21/2018 for 20 weeks

Section A: Fridays, 4:30-5:30 PM.

Section B: Fridays, 5:30-6:30 PM

Instructor: Amelia Hays Rivest

Intermediate Scene Study and Continuing Acting

Character Work: Through creating and exploring different character forms, students will advance in acting skills, build scene study techniques, and gain improv experience. This course will allow students to zero in on their character work, and have the fun of creating a wide range of characters, from realistic to stylized. Through improv, monologues, stories, scenes, fantasy, and theatre games, students will have the challenge of fully investing in the characters they create and bring to life.

Character Work, (CW) Ages 10-13

Thursdays 5:30-7PM, beg. 9/6/2018

Instructor: Amelia Hays-Rivest

Intro to Scene Study: With material drawn from contemporary scripts, monologues, and improvisation, students learn how to approach a script, how to stage a scene, and how to bring a character to life. Students explore subtext, motivation, and relationships and learn about character development, improvisation, timing, and movement.

Introduction to Scene Study (ISS) Ages 10 –14

Wednesdays, 4-5:30, beg. 9/12/2018

Instructor: Amelia Hays-Rivest

Inside Out: Through improvisation, ensemble forms, writing, and scene work, students will develop monologues and scenes using material and stories from their own lives. The class will learn how to create a range of characters, interact in a performance ensemble, and further refine acting and movement skills. This course will create a series of pieces that highlight each student's personal narrative.

Inside Out (IO) Ages 11-15

Wednesdays, 5:30-7PM, beg. 9/12/2018

Instructor: Amelia Hays-Rivest

Young Actor Prepares Prepare to advance your theatre training! What do you need in your next year of acting? In YAP each actor will have the chance to build his/her acting technique and skills through a broad range of improv games, script work, monologues and created ensemble theatre pieces. YAP allows for more in-depth individual focus on each actor's goals, as the improv games and script selections will be developed based on each actor's needs and advancement. What will your YAP year bring?

Young Actor Prepares (YAP) Ages 10 - 14

Mondays, 4-5:30 PM, beg. 9/10/2018

Instructor: Amelia Hays-Rivest and Austin Yelinek

Improvisation and Comedy

Aesop's Improv: Using techniques of story theatre, students will create pieces based on the well-loved Aesop's fables. They will select fables that have meaning for them and set them in improv pieces relating to their own lives. They will gain experience in creating a range of characters, both fabled and realistic, and develop monologue, movement, and ensemble skills.

Aesop's Improv, (AI) Ages 10-15

Saturdays, 11:30 – 1PM, beg. 9/8/2018

Instructor: Amelia Hays-Rivest and Austin Yelinek

Questions and Acting: In Q&A at the Drama Studio, we'll combine improv training with scene work and character studies. Through improv games, scripted scenes and monologues, actors will grow stronger in all the acting questions: 'who,' 'why,' 'how,' 'what' and even some 'where' and 'when.' Q&A actors will become lightning fast with the improv exercises needed to sustain deeper work in both scripted and improvised theatre.

Questions and Acting (Q&A) Ages 10–15

Mondays, 4-5:30PM, beg. 9/10/2018

Instructor: Mat Bussler

Improv Technique II Through a variety of exercises and games we will strengthen our skills in spontaneity, listening, and physical comedy. Students will explore scene work, group games, and character development through short and long form comedy improv and comic scenarios. Improvisation helps students to be more expressive, and to use the body, mind and voice more fully when reacting to the stimuli of a scene. An important pre-requisite for anyone interested in auditioning for the Advanced Improv Troupe!

Improv Technique II (IT2) Ages 14-18

Thursdays, 6:30-8PM, beg. 9/6/18

Instructor: Dan Morbyrne

Advanced Improv Troupe: Students will develop an ensemble approach to improvised comedy scenes, with an emphasis on long form improv and character development. Enrollment by audition.

Advanced Improv Troupe (TROUPE) Ages 13-18

Wednesdays, 6-7:30PM, beg. 9/12/2018

Instructor: Dan Morbyrne

Ensemble and Movement

Intermediate Choreography Workshop: ICW is an intensive workshop class for dancers wishing more experience with choreography. Students will focus on developing small group dance pieces, working one on one with the instructor to develop the work, using choreographic principles, music, poetry, lighting, and...who knows? Enrollment by permission of instructor.

Intermediate Choreography Workshop (ICW) Ages 13-19

Fridays, 7-8:30PM, beg. 9/7/2018

Instructor: Amelia Hays-Rivest

Stage Combat: An 8-week course in the art of stage combat in which students will learn to perform safe and realistic violence on stage, as well as gain the tools to create original fight choreography. Techniques include unarmed combat, armed combat, and historical and contemporary fighting styles.

Stage Combat, (SC) Ages 14-18

Saturdays, 1:15-2:45, beg. 2/9/2019

Instructor: Dan Morbyrne

Outside In: In this class the body comes first. We learn how to create theatre and motivate characters through action and physical engagement rather than through a psychological approach to acting. This class will draw exercises from such physical theatre practitioners and disciplines as Viewpoints, Suzuki, Laban, Michael Chekhov, and Action Theatre. In a world where so much of performance is done for cameras, actors are losing the vitality in their whole-body physical presence. This is an essential class for students who want to inhabit the stage with strong physicality. Dress to move!

Outside In ages 14-18

Thursdays, 5-6:30PM beg. 9/6/2018

Instructor: Dan Morbyrne

Advanced Acting

21st Century Theatre: This advanced class is designed to ground students in the most important names and movements happening in the world of theatre right now. Through a rare curriculum in which all the plays studied are written by people who are still alive, students will learn how exciting it is to be a part of today's theatrical landscape. Playwrights studied will include Suzan-Lori Parks, Sarah Ruhl, Charles Mee Jr., Lynn Nottage, and Jose Rivera, as well as a unit on Devised Theatre.

21st Century Theatre Ages 15-18

Tuesdays, 5-7PM, beg. 9/11/2018

Instructor: Dan Morbyrne

Advanced Scene Work: This class will ground the young performer in a nuts-and-bolts approach to acting. Students will learn in-depth text analysis, including how to divide a scene into beats, identify character objective, and tactics, and recognize operative words and phrases. Students will also learn how to get the most range from their natural speaking voice and how to connect with and support their acting partner. Course will include field trips to college and professional theatres.

Advanced Scene Work (ASW) Ages 14-18

Fridays, 5-7PM, beg. 9/7/2018

Instructors: Dan Morbyrne, Mat Bussler

Special Interest Classes

Playwriting: An exciting course for students interested in the craft of playwriting, based on the premise that playwriting is an extension of acting. Students will learn the basic principles of playwriting through written exercises as well as improvisation work and complete a one-act play (10-15 pages in length). Plays written on the adolescent experience will be eligible for production in the Studio's annual Winter Shorts Festival of one-act plays.

Playwriting (PW) Ages 9-adult

Wednesdays 5:30-7PM beg. 9/10/2018

Instructor: Doug Foresta

Musical Theatre: An intensive course in musical theatre, with the emphasis on classical American song from the period 1910-1960. Students will build repertory, explore acting choices in presenting songs and develop a musical revue of songs to be presented at the final class each semester. Private coaching is a vital part of this course. The class is limited to 8 students by audition.

Musical Theatre (MT) Ages 13-18

Mondays, 7-8:30PM beg. 9/10/2018

Thursdays, 4:30-6PM beg. 9/6/2018

Instructor: Steve Hays
