

Recycled Leather & Color Match

EcoDomo recycled leathers are finished using the same equipment as what you find in a tannery because our products are ...leather!

We can replicate both the color and the texture of a majority of the leather finishes found on the market today with our recycled leather. We've done color matching for a range of clients including Bank of America, Levi's, the Ritz, Starbucks, St. Regis hotels, and Coach. We always require a token fee to be paid upfront which can be credited against your order.

Recycled leather offers exceptional value, predictable yields, and yet preserve the true luxury of leather. You can use recycled leather in all the same areas where wood is used for interiors – from floor to ceiling including furniture, casework, table tops, and wainscot. Made in the USA.
