

Sophisticated Curves

Online Plus Size Clothing Boutique

Menu

Apr
07
2016

Plus Size Trend: Red Carpet Glamor

Author: Jen Anderson • Discussion: No Comments

These days, celebrities can't go anywhere without walking a red carpet first. It's great for those of us who enjoy looking at pretty dresses, but also a little frustrating. It's not like those great outfits come in plus sizes, right?

Wrong. Plus size women have plenty of options when they want some red carpet style. Whether you're going to prom, a wedding reception, or a movie premiere, you have lots of plus size red carpet style dresses to choose from.

Golden Girl

Nothing is more red carpet than dressing in gold, just like the golden statuette you've been nominated for. The Golden Girl Evening Dress from Sydney's Closet is dripping with elegance. All those beads and sequins sparkle under bright lights or on the dance floor. The horsehair hemline gives the skirt extra volume – a couture touch that you often see on the red carpet.

The illusion netting on the bodice gives you that popular strapless look while letting you stay covered.

Screen Siren Lace Gown

Kiyonna's Screen Siren Lace Gown is a mash up of old Hollywood glamor and modern red carpet style. The fit and flare shape flatters your curves while the stretchy fabric keeps it from feeling or looking tight. The light-colored underlay beneath black lace is a fresh take on classic lace. The dress is also available in several colors with a matching lining for a more traditional look.

Faux Bustier Wrap Dress

Menswear-inspired looks turn up on the red carpet regularly. Eloquii's Faux Bustier Wrap Dress is a mixture of masculine and feminine. So much of this dress is an illusion – the asymmetrical faux wrap skirt, the bustier, and even the button placket. The whole dress zips up the back, which makes it easy and comfortable to wear.

Razzle Dazzle Party Dress

On the red carpet, even little black dresses have to sparkle. The Razzle Dazzle Party Dress from Sydney's Closet has all the glitz and glamor you could want. The sequined pattern offers some visual interest without competing with your biggest, most dazzling accessories. There are so many ways to dress up this little number that you'll wear it everywhere.

The sheath style is most flattering on hourglass, rectangle and apple shaped bodies. The bra-friendly v-neckline goes well with any necklace you choose.

Studio Petal Neckline Gown

Simple elegance is a red carpet mainstay. Eloquii's Studio Petal Neckline Gown offers understated glamor. The long, draping fabric hugs your curves and flares out below the knee for a subtle mermaid silhouette. The neckline cutouts pair well with bold earrings and bracelets.

The Studio Petal Neckline Gown is available in black (in limited sizing) and white.

Red Carpet Glamor For Everyone

You don't have to be a celebrity (or a size 2) to wear red carpet styles. With the right dress, you can look like you have a celebrity stylist on the payroll.

Plus Size Trend: Red Carpet Glamor was last modified: April 7th, 2016 by Jen Anderson

Tagged with: cocktail dresses, eloquii, kiyonna, kiyonna dresses, kiyonna lace dress, plus size, plus size dress, plus size fashion, Plus Size Red Carpet Fashion, plus size red carpet style, red carpet style, Sydney's Closet

Posted in: Eloquii, Kiyonna, Sydney's Closet

Post navigation

Previous Post: 2016 Spring Giveaway!

Next Post: Call I Pull Off an Asymmetrical Dress?

Leave a reply

Comment*

Name*

Email*

Website