The Perfect Plus Size Dress For Your School Reunion

Author: Jen Anderson • Discussion: No Comments

School reunions are so fraught. You want to catch up with everyone, but you're not as young or thin as you used to be. You know what? No one is as young or thin as they used to be. You still probably look better now than you did back in school. And you old school chums just want to see you. Sure, people may comment if the captain of the football team shows up with a combover or if student body president was just caught up in a political scandal. But for most people, a school reunion is a chance to show everyone how great they turned out.

What you need is a dress that shows that you're confident, successful and happy. It's a lot to ask of a dress, but Shavonne Dorsey has done it.

The Mina Dress

Bam. Just picture yourself walking into your school reunion in that dress. That guy who never gave you the time of day? Kicking himself. The gals you lost touch with over the years? Rushing over to find out how you manage to look so good. Everyone who voted you Most Likely To Succeed? Patting themselves on the back for making the right choice all those years ago.

Let's face it – this is what you want to be wearing when someone pulls out the old pictures with the what-were-we-thinking hairstyles and regrettable outfits. Mina will remind you that you're not that awkward teen anymore, and haven't been for a long time.

The Mina Dress hugs your curves tastefully. The twisted strap adds some interest up near your face. And the fabric draping down the back is just what every goddess/superhero needs. It's not a designerly, trying-too-hard, only-appropriate-for-the-red-carpet cape or movement-restricting capelet. It's a suggestion of a cape. It speaks of perfectly arranged silk scarves and effortless glamor.

This is a dress that says you're here to look fabulous and have a great time. And you're not even giving that much thought to how great you look. Which is true – you'll be so confident in how you look that you'll be able to relax and focus on all your old friends. Which is what a school reunion is really all about.

The Mina Dress comes in green, melon, and black. It's made of Jersey, so it drapes beautifully and won't wrinkle in your suitcase. You'll feel so good in this dress that as soon as the reunion is over you'll be looking for more occasions to wear it.
