Plus Size Wedding Dresses For Every Style

Author: Jen Anderson • Discussion: No Comments

Yay! You're getting married. Finding the right person is so much harder than planning a wedding, but somehow it doesn't seem that way. The perfect wedding dress isn't the same for everyone, which is why you're inundated with so many choices. But you know what silhouettes look good on your body, and you know what you want in a dress. Just like you dial it up for an event dress, you dial it up even more for a wedding dress – more volume, more embellishment, more everything.

Like with a lot of plus size clothes, you may have a better chance finding the dress of your dreams by shopping online. The wedding dress boutique experience tends to be more disappointing than you could imagine. How can you really tell how a dress will look on you when you're trying on a sample size that doesn't really fit you? And then you have to wait ages for it to arrive so you can start the fittings and alterations.

When you order a plus size wedding dress online, you can see it on a model who's built like you are. And then it arrives quickly, so you can take it right to the tailor to have it altered to fit you perfectly. Don't skip that step – a tailor can make any dress look and feel like it was made just for you.

But first – you've got to find the dress.

Luxe Lace Wedding Dress

Kiyonna's Luxe Lace Wedding Dress is just the thing for an outdoor wedding. It features ivory scalloped lace over ivory lining. The 3/4 length sleeves are universally flattering. The high waist means that it will skim over the tummy of apple shaped women.

The skirt is long so that it won't be too short on tall women. Your tailor can shorten it to just above or below your knee without spoiling the scalloped lace.

This dress has a wonderful vintage feel that utilizes lace in a modern way.

My Romance

My Romance from Sydney's Closet is a little bit vintage, a little bit modern. It's bra-friendly with or without the removable lace modesty panel, so it's great for any woman who needs a lot of support. You can leave the modesty panel in place for the ceremony and then remove it to show some cleavage at the reception.

The empire waist is flattering on all body shapes.

The Look of Love

The greek goddess look is classic for a reason. The Look of Love from Sydney's Closet is simply elegant. The beaded straps add the perfect embellishment to flowing chiffon. The waistband hits at the natural waist, so apple shaped women should steer clear. But rectangle and pear shaped women will look and feel wonderful in this dress.

The Perfect Dress For You Is Out There

Your wedding dress is out there waiting for you. There are so many options online that you're sure to find it.
