who we are

Taufiq Khan

Director of Org. Transformation

Creating conditions for success

I've been privileged to work with some incredible teams towards huge digital initiatives. I launched the first Commonwealth Bank mobile app, and pioneered digital subscriptions on the Sydney Morning Herald, The Age and Financial Review. The common thread in these, and I believe in any accomplishments, are teams that are given the context, support and leadership to thrive.

James O'Toole

Director of Tech

I believe that tech can make the world better

On my journey toward mastery, I've been privileged to build mobile apps and websites used by tens of thousands of people in industries as diverse as telecommunications, financial services and not-for-profits. No Moss to me is a way of giving back to organisations that need trusted advice and tech problems solved.

Reuben Moorhouse

Director of Innovation

Help people turn passions into projects

I've had exposure working with a number of startups, and helping them grow to a sustainable level. I enjoy the creation process, and helping draw value and purpose from creativity. Through No Moss Studios and No Moss Makers I'm able to bring joy and purpose into the world.

Steven Ma
Managing Director
Executive Agilist
Purpose Maximiser

My life goal is to make work human again.

I've worked with startup teams at critical moments of their journey and global enterprises looking for more human ways to work. I have led the ways of working transformation of fintech, government and non-profits.

Bay Leather Republic

bayleather.com.au

No Moss worked with Bay Leather Republic to create their new web-commerce site. We provided a range of website designs, prioritising their business needs and the customers user experience. We built Bay Leather Republic in Wordpress.

indigenousscholarships.com.au

Collaborating with the Aurora Education Foundation, we developed The Aspiration Initiative Indigenous Scholarships Portal. Drawing on expertise in design, tech and business analysis, we built a web solution that matches students to relevant scholarships from scratch, connecting it with Joomla back ends.
