S.I.C. Consulting, Inc., Changes Name to Reitman Consulting Group Inc.

(Fort Worth, TX) --- S.I.C. Consulting, Inc. president Mitch Reitman has announced that his company has changed its name to Reitman Consulting Group Inc.

S.I.C. Consulting was founded in 2001 with, as Mitch describes it, one pencil and a lot of knowledge about the security and systems integration industry. Today, Reitman Consulting Group Inc. provides transactional consulting and advisory services for the security and alarm industry. Reitman also assists clients with a variety of needs like accounting and operations assistance, tax compliance and tax representation, including fine tuning financial reporting capabilities, and performs valuations for estate planning, divorces and dispute resolution. As well, Reitman supports buyers and sellers, including representing security and integration companies, in locating a buyer and completing a transaction.

“We can assist buyers and sellers in every phase of the transaction process,” said Mitch, who has been an in-demand broker over the last several years as a number of industry players have consolidated.

“Whether one of our clients has 300 accounts or 30,000 accounts, Reitman can help. More security companies look to Reitman Consulting Group for tax preparation and planning than any other firm.”

Reitman Consulting Group has worked with over 300 security and systems integration clients to help them with their financial operations.
