ONLINE SUMMER WRITING CAMP

This summer I will be partnering with BoomWriter to offer an online summer writing camp experience to children in our community.

This one-week camp, which takes place online and has a limited number of places, will have children improving their writing and reading skills as they collaborate with peers to create an original realistic fiction story. In addition to improving their literacy skills, each participant in my camp will have a published copy of the story sent directly to their home!

Please go to:

www.boomwriter.com/c/RGLAS

to find my camp page with additional details and to register your child. I'm excited to provide your child with this fun and engaging summer experience.

Thank you,
