OUT OF FOCUS photography

is a continuous photopoetic search.

A quest for the ultimate steal of the moment in photography.
Rather this - in all its imperfection - than freezing the moment without the emotion.

For each category I guess each emotion or theme needs it's own way of expression.

And on occassion I need to dream to see reality.

Because sometimes OUT of focus I get a clearer view of the moment.

NATURAL POETRY

CLOSER

Inside these rooms
Where numb shadows
Hide fading memories
With utmost care
A soul in isolation
Stares behind iron bars
Passes daylight in the hope
That maybe there
Today or tomorrow
The wait was not in vain
And grace showed her presence
As she combed her hair

thoughts elsewhere
