

RETURNS POLICY

My promise to you is that I will make every effort to package the artwork in a manner to minimize any damage to the piece in transit.

RETURNS FOR ORIGINAL WORKS OF ART

If your painting gets damaged in the mail, please notify me by email (joeabbrescia@gmail.com) right away and include a description of the damage along with a photo if possible. Keep all the packaging material intact, as you will need to ship it back to me so I can either repair or replace the item. I offer a seven-day return policy. If you change your mind after receiving your goods, you have seven days to notify me by email (joeabbrescia@gmail.com). You will need to pay for the return shipping to return the piece to me. Please make sure you package the piece the best way that you can in the original packaging material.

REFUNDS FOR PRINTED WORKS OF ART

If your printed artwork gets damaged in the mail, please file your claim with the carrier.
