

PRIVACY

We value your privacy and will never share your address, email, or phone number.

ABBRESCIAART.COM collects the email addresses of those who purchase from us online and communicate with us via e-mail. We use this information for internal marketing purposes only. We do not sell or rent your email address to other organizations. In the event we offer an email newsletter via MailChimp and subsequently, if you opt-in to receive email from us about special promotions, events and new works in the future, you should be receiving periodic messages from us with this information. If you wish to be removed from this list, please follow the link to unsubscribe. Persons who supply us with their telephone numbers online may receive telephone contact from us with information regarding orders they have placed online. Please provide us with your correct phone number. This number will be used for order confirmations only and will not be used for telemarketing nor will it ever be shared with other organizations.

Checkout Users

When you use Stripe Checkout on a our website to store your payment credentials, Stripe will gather and store your payment card information, your email address, your mobile phone number, and billing and shipping address. Stripe, Inc. will use this information to complete purchases that you choose to make on other websites or applications that also use Stripe Checkout, but only with your permission. Stripe may also share your contact information, but not your card information, with the ABBRESCIAART.COM as part of your purchases. Stripe will not share this information with other third parties except as a necessary part of providing Stripe Website and Services.