

August 07, 2010

Gertrude Taichman Rosenblat, 86, deli owner, lecturer on the Holocaust

Gertrude Taichman Rosenblat, 86, died Thursday, Aug. 5. She was a native of Radom, Poland, and lived in New Orleans for the past 63 years.

She and her husband owned Ralph's Kosher Meat & Delicatessen for many years.

She was the sole survivor of seven brothers and sisters who lost their lives during the Holocaust. She lectured to high school students about the perils of the Holocaust.