TEACHING & EDUCATION

2011-2015, Tembusu College, NUS

Regularly taught academic modules

- Interdisciplinary seminar on Fakes, for first-year students.
- Interdisciplinary seminar on Biomedicine and Singapore Society, for second-year students. This module has been co-developed and co-taught with colleagues from different disciplines.

Other academic modules

- Interdisciplinary seminar on Climate Change, for second-year students (one-off involvement in team-taught module)
- New seminars on Time and Life, and Intelligence and Singapore Society (under development to be offered in the academic year 2015/2016)

Other education-related work

- Instigator, co-developer and facilitator of the Third Year Experience and Fourth Year Mentoring Programme at Tembusu College. This work connects with a worldwide movement to reform higher education by supporting students' intrinsic motivation. See the online interview "BB Innovators w/ Dave Goldberg: Coaching, Culture & Tembusu College in Singapore with Catelijne Coopmans, Mavis McAllister and Sonja Chua," April 14 2015.
- Interaction with and mentoring of student-led interest groups and third year initiatives, particularly relating to gender, sexuality, and wildlife conservation.

2008-2011, Sociology Department, NUS

Undergraduate teaching

- Science, Technology & Society (lectures and tutorials, third-year students)
- Visual Culture (lectures and tutorials, third-year students)
- Qualitative Data Collection (seminars, fourth-year honours students)

Graduate student supervision

- Devan, Pamela Mary, "Butch, Femme and Other Labels in the Singaporean Lesbian Community: Can we Escape the Heteronormative Gender Binary?" (Master of Sociology, completed in 2011)
- Cengarle, Simonetta, "Banking on the Future: Hope and Hype of Umbilical Cord Stem Cell Banking, The Case of Singapore" (Visiting PhD student in Anthropology, withdrawn in 2011)
