

Robin Wood has been pastoring and leading churches since he was 19 years old.

In 1987, Robin planted Mountain Park Community Church in Phoenix Arizona, which grew from 12 adults to over 4,000 members.

In 2004, Robin became President and Co-Founder of Church Multiplication Association.

CMA is a non-profit organization based in Olathe Kansas that seeks to plant churches across the U.S. CMA is responsible for planting and assisting 74 church plants.

In 2010 Robin became the lead Chaplain/Pastor and Counselor for Chesapeake Energy, the largest Natural Gas Corporation in America.

Recently, Robin accepted the position of Vice President of Development with Feed The Children, one of the largest charities that feeds 352,000 children every day and brings clean water, schools, and sustainable jobs to villages and communities around the world.

He has three grown children, Leah, Brady, and Annie and is the proud Grandfather of 4: Adah, June, Finnegan, and Miles.

His new book "I Get You" will be coming out in 2014.