

Edward V. Piccinich serves as Executive Vice President for SL Green Realty Corp., an S&P 500 company, New York City's largest landlord, and a fully integrated real estate investment trust. Mr. Piccinich is a leader in the field and he manages one of the largest commercial office portfolios in New York City, overseeing construction, commercial property management, and corporate operations.

As part of SL Green's growing development program, Mr. Piccinich is also responsible for the oversight of One Vanderbilt, a 1.6 million square foot tower located in Midtown Manhattan, adjacent to Grand Central Terminal. Mr. Piccinich previously managed notable projects for SL Green including two ground-up developments for Pace University, 180 Broadway and 33 Beekman, as well as several retail developments in prime locations throughout New York City. He has also been closely involved with the negotiations of major Collective Bargaining Agreements as representative for New York City's largest commercial real estate owner.

Mr. Piccinich serves on the Hackensack University Medical Center Board of Governors and is a member of the Hackensack Meridian Health Network Board of Trustees, serving as Assistant Treasurer for the Finance Committee. He is also a member of the HackensackUHN Board's Strategic Planning Committee.

In addition, Mr. Piccinich serves on the Board of Directors for the Real Estate Board of New York, the New York Building Congress, the Realty Advisory Board, Urban Green Council, Alliance for Downtown New York, and The Downtown Brooklyn Partnership. Mr. Piccinich is actively involved in community outreach and philanthropic organizations including the Diabetes Research Institute, the Muscular Dystrophy Association, and National Jewish Health.

Mr. Piccinich has been honored with the following recognitions: REBNY's George M. Brooker Management Executive of the Year award and Edward A. Riguardi Executive of the Year Award, the Madison Square Park Conservancy honorary award in recognition of support and commitment to the Madison Square Park Conservancy, St. Francis Food Pantries' "In the Spirit of St. Francis" award for commitment to feeding New York City's hungry, and the Diabetes Research Institute's "You Give Us Hope to Unlock the Cure" honorary award.

Mr. Piccinich earned his Bachelor of Science degree in Mechanical Engineering from Manhattan College. He lives in New York City with his wife, Roseanne, and they have three children: Amy, Carly, and Derek.