PSYCHOLOGICAL ASSESSMENT COORDINATOR
STAFF PSYCHOLOGIST AND CLINICAL SUPERVISOR

Calgary Counselling Centre, Calgary, Alberta

Responsible for overseeing the quality and accuracy of the psychological assessment (standardized testing) services provided by the agency by providing professional development training and clinical supervision to those staff members doing testing. Also provided clinical (individual, group, in-vivo) supervision to counseling trainees, and conducted approximately 20 psychotherapy sessions a week across a broad range of populations and presenting problems.

Professional Experience,
Continued:

- December 2002 – December 2005 NATIONAL COORDINATOR OF EXPATRIATE SERVICES
Wilson Banwell Human Solutions, Calgary, Alberta
Conducted comprehensive psychological assessments on corporate candidates (and their family members, where applicable) who were competing for long-term, short-term, or rotational assignments in overseas or cross-border locations.
- Once candidates were identified, provided cross-cultural preparation and training that incorporated the cultural and political characteristics of the destination and the specific psychological characteristics of the individual(s). Provided psychological support throughout their expatriate assignment, and repatriation consultation and counselling upon their return or further relocation
- Also, conducted approximately 30 psychotherapy sessions a week within this EFAP company, providing time-limited treatment to adults, couples, and families. Areas of treatment included the entire range of issues presenting in an outpatient setting.
- October 1998 – November 2002 SENIOR PSYCHOTHERAPIST (state licensed) AND SUPERVISOR (state certified)
Emmaus Counseling Center, Altamonte Springs, Florida
Conducted individual, marital, and group psychotherapy sessions, as well as clinical supervision of interns, approximately 20-25 hours a week. Conducted psychoeducational seminars, workshops, and conferences in the professional and “lay” communities.
- Client populations of special interest:
- Adult victims of childhood abuse (sexual, emotional, physical and neglect).
  - Individuals currently in abusive relationships
  - Personality disorders
  - Depression and grief
  - Trauma recovery
  - Clinical supervision of therapist trainees
- January 1999 – August 2001 CLINICAL SUPERVISOR – (State certified)
Reformed Theological Seminary, Oviedo, Florida.
Supervised Master’s-level student counselors at the practicum and internship level. Conducted supervision in individual, group, and in-vivo formats, providing approximately 9-10 hours of supervision a week, for a total of approximately 1,346 hours of face-to-face supervision across this period.
- March 1995 – August 2001 DIRECTOR OF COUNSELING and CLINICAL TRAINING
Northland Pastoral Care Center, Longwood, Florida.
Clinician - Conducted psychosocial assessment and diagnosis of approximately 10-15 new clients a week before assigning them to one of the 20-25 Master’s-level student interns who staffed the counseling center. Oversaw students’ treatment planning and case management, as well as the weekly staff/student staffing and case conference. Oversaw the supervisory team, comprised of 6 full-time, state-licensed and supervision-certified clinical supervisors.
- Administrator - Oversaw the management of the community counseling center where Master’s in counseling students served their practicum and internship. Monitored the scheduling of over 150 counseling sessions a week and tracked the compliance and progress of each student counselor with regard to his/her clinical training obligations and state licensing requirements.

Professional Experience,

Additional responsibilities as the senior administrator of this center included serving as the center's primary liaison to the consumer and professional communities. Positioned the center as a leader in offering affordable, quality care to the community by conducting television and radio lectures, and offering free psychoeducational seminars aimed at prevention and intervention. Increased the presence and reputation of the center as a quality mental health provider with both the consumer, professional, and medical communities. Developed an extensive network of community-referral resources, and positioned the center as an advocate in providing excellent, affordable mental health care to disadvantaged populations.
