

Best Corned Beef And Cabbage In Orange County

With St. Patrick's Day on the horizon, dining thoughts often turn to corned beef and cabbage; one of the most well-known dishes of this lucky holiday. Corned beef and cabbage is an adaptation of Irish bacon and potatoes. In the 1800's, a large wave of Irish immigrants arrived in the United States and adaptation of traditional Irish dishes was mandatory due to the prohibitive cost of pork. Corned beef was cured similarly to Irish bacon and much cheaper than pork. Potatoes were readily available, but cabbage was still far more cost-effective to feed a whole family. Here is a list of five restaurants serving the best corned beef and cabbage in Orange County.
