

Helpful Hints for Reading Workshop

Give your child a solid foundation for reading readiness!

Help a student struggling to learn to read!

This workshop is designed to offer support and meaningful instruction for parents, educators and tutors working with pre-readers, beginning and struggling readers, as well as those diagnosed with dyslexia or Specific Learning Disability (SLD).

Helpful Hints
for Reading

A Guide for Those Helping Beginning or Struggling Readers

2017 Dates

Choose March 18, June 17,
September 16 or December 16

9:00-11:30am

TEC Reading & Dyslexia Resource Center
628 Muller Avenue, Columbia

*All attendees receive a copy of the Helpful Hints for Reading manual

Introduction to 'Helpful Hints for Reading': Learn the code that builds the English language & offers a map for emerging readers to unlock the written word. This session uses our Helpful Hints for Reading manual to explore letter sounds, the 6 syllable types (with an emphasis on Open, Closed & -VCe) and the three most common dividing patterns (V.CV, VC.V and VC.CV).

Dyslexia Simulation: Experience what it feels like to be a struggling reader. Learn the basics of multi-sensory education, why this approach is useful for all students and a must for dyslexic learners.

Each session only $20! Scholarships available.
Please reserve your space by email to tutorec.info@gmail.com

www.tutorec.org