TOXIC PUZZLE

HUNT FOR THE HIDDEN KILLER

The Northeast Aquatic Plant Management Society with sponsorship support from SePRO Stewards of Water, invite you to attend a special screening of this award-winning film documenting the research linking harmful cyanobacterial toxins in freshwater ecosystems to human neurodegenerative diseases such as ALS.

It is a powerful testimony to the value of intensive collaborative research and highlights the frightening risks of harmful algal / cyanobacterial blooms (HAB) to our environment and public health demanding strong efforts to both eliminate the long-term causes of HAB outbreaks and intervene to mitigate acute risks of blooms to the public and aquatic ecosystems.

Please attend this thought-provoking event. The screening is FREE to the public and attendees of the NEAPMS technical conference. Space is limited so please RSVP on the NEAPMS website by January 5. Attendees are asked to consider a freewill donation to the NEAPMS scholarship fund (see www.neapms.org for details) or the Northern New England Chapter of the ALS Association (<http://webnne.alsa.org>).
