

GAIL FOLWELL | Artist Statement

The beauty of art is its capacity to connect to a personal experience. It can be the symbol of a lasting impression. Art draws viewers in to inspire, teach and heal. The work presented here illustrates my ability to capture the essence of a moment bated with the energy surrounding its inception. As an athlete and artist, I am enamored by the body and its expression through gesture, exploring musculature, speed and grace, I'm moved to make art that is uplifting, engaging, conceptually curious, poignant or humorous, alluring from distant silhouette to close and tactile detail. I sculpt people that engage people. My work is a reflection of experiences that make humans fascinating and life so beautiful.
