VALERIE WILSON

Valerie Wilson Travel, Inc.

After living and traveling internationally, Valerie Ann Wilson decided to open a travel consulting firm to offer what she believed was lacking in the industry... first-hand knowledge and dedicated service. In the past 35+ years, her small consulting firm has flourished and prospered to become one of today's largest private, women-owned, debt free and family managed travel consulting firms in the United States. Headquartered in New York City, with an international client base, the company currently has 15 offices located in the Northeast and Southeast corridors, in the Midwest and on the West Coast.
