Canadian Case Study: Trust In The Systems!

What's the one thing we attribute to our success and that of our students more than any other? If you answered, "It's the systems!", you're correct. This is the case, no matter which exit strategy you use, how simple or complicated the deal is, or what kind of property is involved in the project. Join us for this webinar and see how two Mastery Students in Calgary, Alberta, learned this first hand. They recently completed a deal that initially started out as a rehab, but quickly evolved into a wholesaling deal, when a fellow student and realtor offered to buy the property as a wholesale. Tune in this Thursday at 2pm EST to see how these students took advantage of the systems and the final outcome of the deal!

After the transformation was completed, Patricia & Dave took advantage of the power and reach of social media, quickly realizing how posting on Facebook can go a long way toward getting properties on the radar of eager buyers. Way to Crush it, Patricia & Dave! ...Read more »
