

Tutoring Services

specialty in writing, English language, literature

I give lessons in High School Humanities courses at all levels— American diploma, Standard and Higher Level International Baccalaureate, and Advanced Placement. Lessons are generally 60 minutes but can be 90 minutes if a student needs more time. I contact the instructor in advance of the first lesson to ascertain where a student needs help. I devote the first session to assessing where the student stands, discussing what he or she finds difficult or wants to improve, and getting to know his or her interests.

I tutor students in person at my studio in Wassenaar, The Netherlands as well online via Skype video calls and screen sharing, and working simultaneously on Google Docs .
