

COME TO MY SENSES

Written by Jess Ray

© 2017 JESS RAY MUSIC

We were born, with a light and a fire in our eyes
A part of you inside us
Before fear and doubt, came along and put it out
Poisoned us to forget about it

But oh if i can hear just one word from your mouth
I will drop all my doubts and I'll drop my defenses
Oh if I i can hear you speak my name, the curse will break
Blood will pump through my veins again
And i'll come to my senses, i'll come to my senses
I'll come to my senses

As the world dies from this disease, there is more I wanna be Brave enough to slay the beast
Bold enough to begin to suck the poison from my friends
And spit it out, don't take it in

Dare to walk another way, dare to talk of a brighter day
Joy that does not fade away
Pull the stars from the sky, tell the dark to turn to light
Tell the dead to come alive

Oh if i can hear just one word from your mouth
I will drop all my doubts and I'll drop my defenses
Oh if I i can hear you speak my name, the curse will break
Blood will pump through my veins again
And i'll come to my senses, i'll come to my senses
I'll come to my senses, i'll come to my senses
I'll come to my senses, i'll come to my senses
I'll come to my senses.