

WATER/WIND/FIRE

You are the ocean, wildly rushing in
Busting every barricade, flooding every secret place
We say we wanna feel you, We say we wanna dive in
I'm the fool for thinking I can just put my feet in...

You're gunna sweep me up, And carry me away
Send me spinning, In your current
I can't catch my breath

You are the mighty wind , That flattens all that stands against
You rip through our reality, Leaving everything in pieces
We say we wanna feel you, We say we wanna dive in
I'm the fool for thinking I can just feel a breeze...

You're gunna knock me down, And wreck me up
Windows shatter, walls are broken
I don't know where I am

You are the fire that blazes with fury
You spread out of control and you never stop burning
We say we wanna feel you, We say that your consuming
I'm the fool for thinking that you would only warm me...

You're gunna burn me up and melt me away
No returning to how it use to be
Oh I'll never be the same
I'll never be the same
No returning to how it use to be
I'll never be the same
