

Horizons Greater Washington Selects New Site Director for Horizons at Maret

Washington, DC- Horizons Greater Washington is excited to announce that Aaron Cahn has been selected as Site Director for Horizons at Maret. Aaron joins Horizons to build upon the tremendous work of our departing founder Kiki Sweigart, who served as Site Director at Maret for 17 Years. He brings significant experience and knowledge in education and program administration to the Horizons family.

Aaron is currently the Learning Specialist for Maret's Middle School and will remain in this role while at Horizons. Prior to joining Maret he taught in Philadelphia Public Schools, at KIPP DC, and for K12 Inc. After Graduating from the University of Maryland he joined the Philadelphia Teaching Fellows and received his Master's in Special Education. He later completed a program in school administration in urban communities at IUPUI. When not at Maret Aaron enjoys spending time with his family and cheering on local sports teams. Aaron enjoyed attending and working camps through his childhood and is excited to be a part of the program. Horizons is thrilled to have him on the team and looks forward to the incredible dedication and spirit he will bring to students in the program.

About Horizons Greater Washington

Founded in 2000 as Horizons at Maret School, Horizons Greater Washington is a partnership between public school communities and independent schools, which provides academic, cultural, and recreational programs, designed to empower economically disadvantaged students to realize their full potential.

Since 2010 Horizons Greater Washington has offered its Saturday and 6-week summer programs at 3 sites across DC and Maryland (Horizons at Maret School, Horizons at St. Patrick's Episcopal Day School, and Horizons at Norwood School).
