Phi Beta Psi

It's You and your friends helping a fight against cancer...

It's You and your friends working together at the local, state and national level...

It's You and your friends sharing and caring for your community in your own special way...

Phi Beta Psi

It's You!

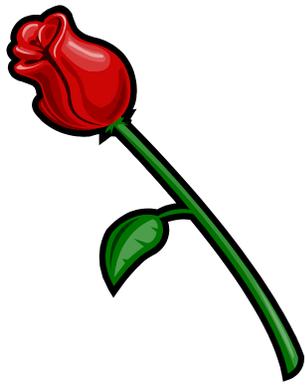

Phi Beta Psi is not just another club.

It is a fun-loving group of women working together toward many goals.

Membership eligibility requires that you must be a woman with high moral standards and at least eighteen years old or a high school graduate. Seven or more women can start a new chapter and share in the fun and fellowship of this sorority, plus help in the fight against cancer.

Cancer Research is the Phi Beta Psi National Project. Research grants are given each year to doctors throughout the country working in the field of Cancer Research. Most of the money for these grants is earned through chapter projects, and some is donated as memorials. Phi Beta Psi is a Volunteer organization, not funded by any governmental entity.

Phi Beta Sorority is a national organization which was founded in Columbus, Ohio in 1904. It is not affiliated in any way with a college or university, but is a Civic organization.

The Purpose of Phi Beta Psi is to participate in charitable work, to promote fraternal relationship among its members and to establish and assist other chapters of Phi Beta Psi.

Phi Betes are most proud of the work they are doing to help the fight against cancer.

The Board of Directors consisting of six officers is the governing body of the national organization.

A National Convention is held annually in the month of July for approximately three days. Delegates and other members from each chapter attend the convention to take part in the business of the sorority, and to renew and make lasting Friendships with Phi Betes throughout the country.

The Phi Bete News is published several times during the year to share ideas and news about the sorority.

Annual State Conventions are held by several state organizations.

Chapters hold at least 10 business meetings per year and some chapters also have social events.

The National Project, Cancer Research, is supported by chapters and many also assist their local cancer units. Some members Volunteer to work at hospitals or provide transportation for cancer patients. Many also support other local charitable or civic causes. Chapters conduct projects such as: card parties, festivals, raffles, sales of nuts, fruit, candy, etc.

Research grants are given each year to doctors throughout the country working in the field of cancer research. Most of the money for these grants is earned through chapter projects, and some is donated as memorials. Phi Beta Psi is a volunteer organization, not funded by any government entity. Phi Beta Psi is 501(c)(3) tax-exempt approved by the I.R.S. as a charity organization.
