

Chaos Tag

TIME: 5 – 20 Minutes

SPACE: Large Gym or Field

SUPPLIES: None Required

INSTRUCTIONS:

- Explain to students that chaos means things will be crazy in this game!
- In this game everybody is “it” and everybody can be tagged.
- If a student gets tagged they must sit/squat on the ground. However, once the tagger gets tagged, the student is allowed to run around again.
- For example, if Student A tags Student B, Student B is “out” and must sit on the ground.
- However, as soon as Student C tags Student A – Student B is back in the game and Student A must sit down.
- Students must be careful to track their tagger so they know when to come back in the game.
- If two students tag each other at the same time they do “Rock, Paper, Scissors” and whoever wins continues on as tagger.
- The game continues until either one student has tagged all other students or time has run out.

VARIATIONS:

- If it seems like many student have been out for more than 2 minutes the teacher may yell “Everybody back in!” and all students must stand up and start tagging/running again.
