

Shapes & Colors – Learson

The day seems dull with an empty heart
But when I go to sleep I can see the spark
The world looks gray when you don't have a lover
But when I close my eyes I see shapes and colors

And I can see her again
She says she understands
She fixes the pain
Instead of slipping away

I'm locked up tight so I can't even cry
But in the middle of a dream I can let it all fly
I feel so lost when I don't have my other
I close my eyes and see shapes and colors

And I can see her again
She says she understands
She fixes the pain
Instead of slipping away

Memories, they keep on begging me
For the way we can all go back again
Memories, they keep on shaking me
To find the strength to find another chance

If I could see her again
I'd make her understand
We can stop all the pain
And start it over again

I close my eyes and see shapes and colors
