

With The Tide - Carter

If everywhere you look don't seem too familiar
and the mirrors on the wall show history's failures then call up all your friends and just tell them its the end cus the planets and people and the years gone by are just floating through the oceans through the rivers with the tide

When the oceans open up their arms to the people when the spirits and the faces on this planet can reach you then everything may seem to appear familiar and time will come and call on our backs to push us over to the edge of the earth and we'll never come back

Just before we go we get to look all around
Just before we fall we get to hit the ground
The mirrors are smashed, yeah the oceans are swollen
The planets and the people have spoken

Just before we go we get to look all around
See the people we remember in this town
Just before we go we get to look all around
See the people we remember

If everywhere you look don't seem too familiar
and the mirrors on the wall show history's failures
cus the planets and people and the years gone by
are just floating through the oceans through the rivers with the tide

Just before we fall we get to hit the ground
The mirrors are smashed, yeah the oceans are swollen
