Overview

Often, we ascribe “miraculous” to any event or circumstance that appears out of the ordinary. While the birth of a child or a “near miss” on the street are extraordinary events, what is truly miraculous is God calling rebellious individuals to himself. Without the intervening of a loving and merciful God we are spiritually dead and deserving of God’s wrath. Only the grace and power of God can grant spiritual life

Corroborating Texts

Numbers 19:11; Ephesians 2:1-5; Romans 10:9-10; Romans 6:4; 2 Peter 1:3-4

Discussion Questions

1. What has typically been seen as a “miracle?” In what ways does the common understanding of this word pale in comparison to regeneration or new birth?
2. In what ways does Jesus’s compassion for the widow encourage you? What are some concerns or dilemmas that have caused you to neglect his call to “hope in me.”
3. How are we all like “dead men” without the divine grace and power of God?
4. What is the first act of obedience? [faith] What does it mean to “confess?”
5. In what ways are you confident, convicted, and encouraged in your conduct?
