

COVERT OPERATIONS

30 July 2014 NEWS BULLETIN FROM NESAPAO

It is with great consternation that PAO brings you the following news bulletin! A covert operative has been on base here at Camp Atterbury and is lurking in our midst. Egads! Little is known about this mysterious man except for the following information: wears dark sunglasses, rarely smiles, is tethered to a clipboard, and is a very serious individual. He has also been sighted driving the vehicle pictured to the right:

Did you notice the people in white suits sauntering about the base in a slow and methodical manner last week? They have been undeniably linked to the covert operative. Pictured to the left are two nefarious characters. PAO has spotted others in the woods. Notice the facemasks, the mega horn held by one individual, and the Ghostbuster©-like packs. There have been mysterious happenings on this base, and PAO attributes some of these events to these VAPORIZERS.

You don't believe PAO? Look at the evidence below:

Each cloud of dust is a vaporized humanoid. Some say that one can even be vaporized by the covert operator's glare! YIKES!

This clandestine individual is not a team player. I must disclose the following information, painful as it is to do so. He has stashed away delicious food items and eats them on the sly! I have seen evidence on the corners of his mouth! It is incomprehensible to PAO.

That is just the "tip of the iceberg," my friends. Do you notice CAP's Lt Dan Banta standing guard in front of a collapsed parking structure below? Notice a close-up of a crushed vehicle. Our operative is the mastermind behind this despicable act!

It does not end there, folks. The vaporizers played a diabolical trick as well, converting a human to a mannequin!

Similar to an octopus with eight tentacles, this shady sleuth has a L-O-N-G reach. FBI, NSA, NCIS, CID, CIA, and ATF agents are under his influence. Recently, an MI6 agent has arrived from Great Britain. Yes, she has a British accent and pretends to like tea.

Do NOT be fooled! She is full of shenanigans and one "dangerous cookie," to boot. Pictured to the right is an image of her drinking tea. "Beware of this woman ... she wears combat boots!

The final questions are these? How do we sniff out this conspiracy and bring to light the mastermind and his minions? How do we insure that all come to face the swift justice that only NESAs can provide? Who of our intrepid students will have the courage to upend their plots and schemes?

Gird thyself with bravery, but be especially careful during your investigation. Stealthily provide information to the PAO, as your detection could be perilous. If discovered, you may be added to a mysterious "list" that is enclosed in a secret capsule somewhere on the covert operative's clipboard.

Performance of one's patriotic duty has its just rewards. The first person from each school that comes forward with information that directly leads to this operative's identification will partake in "sweet" rewards! :-)

Artists Rendering

